STATE LEGION MEET A GREAT SUCCESS

RETURNED SOLDIERS HOLD
STATE MEETING IN OKLA-HOMA CITY AND PER-FECT ORGANIZATION.

By News' Special Service

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22.—Selecting Oklahoma City as permanent state headquarters, electing Horace H. Hagan of Tulsa as state commander, adopting resolutions some of which speak in intensive terms relative to the war department's treatment of so-called "conscientious objectors," and asking congressional investigation of cases of former service men now confined for military offenses, 350 members of the Oklahoma American Legion held their first state convention yesterday. All state officers were selected. Thirty delegates with ten alternates and as many more as wish to go to the national convention in Minneapolis, Nov. 11, were selected.

Charles Orr of Ada was elected vice state commander. Gene Atkins of Muskogee, state adjutant; A. L. Escalante of Oklahoma City, state finance officer; Josh Lee of Norman, historian, and Lee Gilstrap of Chandler, sergeant at arms. The state adjutant was authorized to appoint an assistant state adjutant who shall be in direct charge of the state headquarters and recommendations from the finance committee that a secretary to the executive committee, with a salary of not more than $1,800 a year, be provided for was adopted.

The resolution which brought out such forceful expressions of the attitude of the men referred to a resolution adopted by the legion at the St. Louis convention, it called attention of congress to the fact that many so-called conscientious objectors who had been tried by courts-martial and convicted had been fully pardoned. The resolution adopted today says:

"The war department permitted certain notorious and openly anarchistic conscientious objectors who had been tried and convicted for treachery by a court of competent jurisdiction to be pardoned, restored to duty and honorably discharged with all back pay. This indefensible conduct on the part of the war department brought shame and discredit to men who fought to protect the government. We demand congress to speedily and thoroughly investigate the trial, conviction and release of these conscientious objectors and direct the war department to recall honorable discharges granted these men, and promptly punish such conscientious objectors who are American citizens or speedily deport from this country said conscientious objectors who are aliens. That the officials of the war department responsible for the tender treatment accorded these conscientious objectors be summarily discharged from the service, be those officials high or low."

General Roy Hoffman, present at the meeting, believed the language of the resolution should be toned down a bit in its reference to the war department, and wanted it to go back to the resolutions committee for such revision. Immediately calls for recognition from members of the convention came and Americanism talks followed. Instead of allaying the feelings of the delegates, discussion seemed to intensify their determination, and coming to the final test the convention voted on the resolution with a shout.

Cash Bonus is Opposed.
The resolutions further opposed the cash bonus payment of the men coming from the army, observing that it was the purpose of the legion to give something to the government rather than taking something away from it.

One resolution suggested that a course in citizenship should constitute a part of the curriculum in the schools and that schools be open to aliens for night courses or to others who may wish to take advantage of them. It was recommended that the state and national governments should take more drastic measures in protecting the public from profiteers and "especially those profiteering in the necessities of life and these heartless and Hunlike agitators be branded as outlaws and denounced and punished as criminals."

Relative to courts-martial it was recommended that adequate precaution be adopted in any revision of the present plan for the protection of the rights of the defendant, and "we demand that the present method of administering the courts-martial system as an aid to discipline be abandoned and that instead it be administered as a system of corrective justice."

Correct Excessive Sentences.
It is recommended that congress make inquiries into the cases of all former service men now confined in military prisons for the purpose of discovering and correcting excessive and illegal sentences imposed by military courts. The convention recommended some changes in the (Continued on Page Eight.)

Charges of Grocers Against Packers to Develop Sensation

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A difficult legal battle was expected to follow the opening here today of a hearing before the chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission involving charges by the National Wholesale Grocers Association of the United States, alleging discrimination in shipping facilities afforded the meat packers. The defendants were 317 of the leading railroads. The packers including Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Wilson & Co., and Morris & Co. have filed intervening petitions in the railroads' behalf while the state of Michigan and the Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and Missouri Wholesale Grocers Associations have aligned themselves with the National Grocers Association.

The wholesale grocers' complaint is based on the allegation that the packers have entered extensively into the wholesale grocery business and are permitted to ship staple and non-perishable grocery products in the refrigerator cars with their fresh meat. Such cars are so expedited, the grocers charge, that discrimination is worked against them because they have not that privilege. The packers are virtually giving service on a passenger schedule, the grocers allege.

BRUCE LIGON MADE CENSUS SUPERVISOR

R. B. Ligon has received notice from W. C. Geers of Tishomingo, district supervisor of the Federal census, that he has been appointed supervisor of census for Pontotoc County. He will have charge of taking the census in this county and will need the assistance of quite a number of enumerators.

In Ada alone four enumerators will be needed, and in addition to these there will be a number throughout the county. There will be an examination of prospective enumerators next week held by the Ada postoffice, and all those who desire to secure an appointment to assist in taking the census should make arrangements to take this examination. The work will be both pleasant and remunerative, and those who desire an appointment should see Mr. Ligon at once and prepare for the examination. All appointees must qualify under the regulations of the civil service.

ENGLAND TO BUILD HOMES FOR WORKERS

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Economy is the watchword of the session of parliament which opens today and efforts are to be made by members of the house of commons to throw into the discard the military program outlined in the last budget, the new education scheme and the proposal to construct at cost thousands of homes for working men.

Governmental, military and financial commitments, the national policy regarding Russia, military occupation of Ireland with a plan for Irish home rule and the labor party's demand for the nationalization of mines and railways will be the important matters to come before parliament at this session. It is expected that members of the house will closely question the government as to its policies especially regarding expenditures, and Mr. Lloyd George may reply to these questions in a few days.

NEGROES AS STRIKE BREAKERS BRINGS RIOTS IN OHIO TOWN

By the Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Oct. 22.—Disorders due to the employment of negroes as strike breakers which broke out in several parts of the city late last night continued today. A number of white strikers were cut, one seriously, three others receiving minor bullet wounds and a special policeman was badly beaten.

PRESIDENT'S CONDITION MORE FAVORABLE TODAY

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—President's physicians today reported that Mr. Wilson last night had one of the best nights since he became ill. They issued the following bulletin: "The President last night had one of the best nights since his illness began. His temperature, pulse and respiration rates continue normal. His digestion is more satisfactory."

The blacksnake and the blue racer are identical and non-poisonous. Let a Want Ad get it for you.

IF THESE MEN GET 30-HOUR WEEK AND 60 PER CENT MORE WAGES, FOR WHICH THEY THREATEN TO STRIKE, COAL PRICES WILL SOAR

Coal miners at a meeting; their president, John L. Lewis, and a glimpse at some of their homes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Should the bituminous coal miners of the country, who have vowed to lay down their tools the last day of this month, be successful in their efforts to get a six-hour day, a five-day week and a sixty per cent increase in wages, the inevitable result would be a big boost in the price of coal.

GOVERNOR BROWN DIES AT SASAKWA

SASAKWA, Okla., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Governor Jno. F. Brown died at his home two miles west of Sasakwa yesterday evening at 6 o'clock. He had been very ill since last Sunday and his death was expected. Funeral services will be held at the family home Thursday evening at 2 o'clock and the remains interred in the family burying ground.

John F. Brown was born at Ft. Gibson, Okla., October 23, 1842, and he will be buried on his seventieth birthday. Early in life he came to the Seminole nation in what is now Seminole county and there spent the remainder of a busy and successful life. He assisted in the organization of the Wewoka Trading Company at Wewoka and was associated in this company with his brother, Jackson Brown, and C. L. Long for a half century. He also organized the Brown Trading Company at Sasakwa and retained his interest therein until the time of his death.

For many years prior to statehood he was governor of the Seminole Nation and spent considerable time at Washington looking after the interests of his people. It is generally conceded that John F. Brown was the ablest man the Seminole tribe ever produced. He was a licensed minister in the Indian Baptist Church and exercised a wonderful influence for progress and law enforcement.

The funeral of Governor Brown will be attended by the entire Seminole tribe, as well as by hundreds of Creeks and other citizens of Seminole and surrounding counties.

CONSORTING CHARGES FILED AGAINST TWO

Sampson Foreman and Daisy Spencer were arrested by local officers and lodged in the city jail last night. They were apprehended in Darktown and a charge of consorting filed against them. Their case had not been called in police court this morning.

ROME SHAKEN BY BAD EARTHQUAKE TODAY

By the Associated Press

ROME, Oct. 22.—This city was shaken by an earthquake at 7:05 o'clock this morning. No reports as to damage done have as yet been received. The earthquake lasted only a few seconds.

County Commissioners W. H. Brumley and J. I. Laughlin left this morning for Oklahoma City on a mission of official business. They will bring back to Ada a pair of the big army trucks recently assigned to Oklahoma by the War Department and secured for Pontotoc County by the activity of the commissioners.

COMMISSIONERS GO AFTER ARMY TRUCKS

The trucks will be used in the road building operations of the county and will probably be employed for a time in hauling the gravel to cover the highway from Ada to Byng. The introduction of these big trucks into county road building means a great deal to the county, and the commissioners are naturally highly elated over their success in securing the trucks.

Masons, Notice.
Ada Lodge No. 119, A. F. & A. M., will meet at 8 o'clock this evening for work in the Master's Degree. A good attendance is requested. F. C. Sims, Sec.

per cent increase in the price of coal. If the miners win, the ultimate consumer will find out not only coal but most other things boosted in price as a consequence. The reason for this is, of course, that fuel prices are a factor in the cost of almost every article.

LOCAL BOYS WIN HONORS IN LEGION

The Ada delegates to the state convention of the American Legion returned home today and are highly elated over the successful meeting and at the numerous honors won by Ada in the work of organization. More recognition was accorded the Ada post than any other in state except Oklahoma City and Tulsa. Chas. L. Orr was elected Vice Commander of the state organization, the position of second importance and one that puts him in line for Post Commander of the next convention. He was also named as a member of the committee on finance. A. R. Chandler was elected one of the delegates to attend the national convention at Minneapolis. Gilbert Reed was appointed a member of the committee on resolutions, the committee that had much of the most important work of the convention.

"The key note of the entire convention was Americanism," said Sam Schienberg, who was one of the delegates from this city. "Americanism was emphasized in the resolutions adopted and in all the speeches. The legion is a unit for loyalty and law and order."

"A feature of the banquet last evening was a speech by one of the nine survivors of the famous Princess Pat regiment of Canada. When he said that he hoped to see Canada and the United States both under the same flag and that flag the stars and stripes you could hear the cheering for blocks.

CENTRAHOMA BANK REPORTED ROBBED

It is reported that the bank at Centrahoma was robbed last night. The vault was entered and $1,500 worth of Liberty Bonds and an unknown sum of money was taken. The telephone lines about Centrahoma were cut, thereby rendering it difficult for the particulars of the robbery to be obtained.

GERMAN RATIFICATION OF TREATY OCTOBER 30

PARIS, Oct. 22.—Formal ratification of the German peace treaty probably will be accomplished October 30 and a call be issued that date for the first meeting of the council of the league of nations to take place within ten days.

The Detroit river is a river in name only and in fact is a strait.

Grant Irwin Buys Building For His Big Buick Garage

Grant Irwin, popular garage man and Buick agent, located at 12th and Townsend, has just recently purchased the concrete building of Fred Brydia, located on 12th and directly back of Mr. Irwin's main garage building.

The building on 12th, just purchased, will be converted into a repair and machine shop for the garage, and as a consequence Mr. Irwin will have more space for offices, stock rooms, etc., in the main building.

Mr. Irwin has still more ideas of development in mind to accommodate his ever increasing business, but he would not confide them to the News reporter at this time, saying that it would be better news if we would wait until it actually transpired.

Grant Irwin is probably one of the best known garage men in this part of the state, and if he were doing the talking himself he would no doubt tell you that the Buick car is without a peer in the whole wide world.

At any rate the News is glad to note the expansion of the business for the very good reason that it indicates that Ada is rapidly growing better as a business city.

RAIN DAMAGING THE COTTON CROP

That the continued wet weather is doing serious damage to the cotton crop is the statement made by local cotton men and farmers coming into Ada. Not only is the staple of open cotton being materially damaged but cotton in the lowlands has begun to rot. A leading cotton man of the city estimates that the total sum received for the cotton crop of Pontotoc County will be cut at least thirty per cent by the unfavorable weather.

The late cotton has not yet opened and the bolls are now beginning to rot. It is now eighteen days since the rain began and there has been very little sunshine during that period. The outlook for fair weather is not at all encouraging and the producers and buyers view the outlook with apprehension.

FINE MARES ARRIVE AND ARE AT THE GREGG BARN

As announced in yesterday's News, King Bros. of Elkhart, Kans., prominent stock breeders, are preparing to hold a sale Saturday of 44 head of Percheron mares, fillies and geldings.

The stock arrived last night as per schedule and were unloaded at the Gregg barn this morning. A News reporter visited the barn about noon today and was amazed at the quality of these horses. In fact, any one, for years accustomed to the so-called "pestle-tail" pony variety of horses found in this country, will open his eyes when he sees this herd of fine horse stock. Big boned, big shouldered, adapted to hard work and heavy loads is the Percheron horse, and it will be a happy day for the farmers of Oklahoma when they supply themselves with foundation stock of this kind and bring the work stock of this state up to the standards set by Iowa, Kansas, Illinois and other progressive stock breeding states.

The Kings especially recommend that these mares be bought by the farmers who desire to produce a good quality of mules, and if there is any one thing that is needed worse than anything else in this part of the country it is a good quality of mules for farm purposes.

This sale will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and all farmers interested in good horse stock should make it a point to be at the sale. It is an auction sale and therefore on the square, as you don't have to pay more for an animal than you think it is worth. What the News is interested in is in seeing this fine quality of stuff left in Pontotoc county.

The capture was effected Monday after severe fighting. The battle for Petrograd is continuing with a heavy engagement about six and one-half miles south of the city.

WILSON ASKS THAT CONFERENCE STICK

PRESIDENT SAYS PUBLIC EXPECTS INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE TO BRING CAPITAL AND LABOR TOGETHER

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—In a last effort to prevent the dissolution of the National Industrial Conference, Chairman Lane today read to the delegates the letter dictated by President Wilson yesterday from his sick bed and urging the imperative necessity for some action by the conference to insure industrial peace during the reconstruction period.

The President said the public expected the conference to stay together until the way was found to the establishment of a surer co-operation between all the elements engaged in industry or until it was revealed that the "men who work and the men who manage American industry are so set upon divergent paths that all efforts at co-operation are doomed to failure."

"If the nation's industrial leaders and workers are to be without faith in each other, constantly struggling for advantage over each other and doing nothing but what they are compelled," the President said, "the situation thus created would be a national disaster."

Declaring that his mind turned away from such a possibility the President said the conference should stand together for the development of a full program by which a measurable co-operation might be secured and not break because full agreement could not be had on each proposition or method suggested.

"It is my understanding," the president said "that you have divided upon one portion only of a possible large program which has not fully been developed. It was in my mind when this conference was called that you would concern yourselves with the discovery of methods of cooperation. The public expects not less than that you shall have one end in view and stay together until the way is found leading to that end. I renew my appeal with full apprehension of the incomparable importance of your task and with full faith in the high patriotism and good faith of each other that you push your task to a happy conclusion."

Immediately after the letter was read, the conference recessed and the labor group went into private session to determine its future course. The members plainly were impatient and some of the public and capital delegates seemed doubtful whether the labor representatives would remain in the conference.

GERMAN ARTILLERY FIRES ON BRITISH MEN OF WAR

By the Associated Press

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 22.—German artillery at Riga fired on British war ships at the mouth of the harbor on Sunday, according to a report from the Lettish General Staff and on Monday the British ships returned the fire, shelling the German positions near the city. Riga is being bombarded by heavy German artillery and gas shells are being used. Great damage has been done in the city and many civilians have been killed or wounded.

DOCK WORKERS FAIL GO TO WORK TODAY

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Not a longshoreman went to work on the Chelsea piers in response to the seven o'clock whistles this morning. Although hundreds of dock workers were concentrated in the vicinity of the big steam ship piers at an early hour, the promises of yesterday to return to work in the Chelsea district, one of the most important ones on the New York front, brought no results. It was on the promises of the Chelsea longshoremen that officials based their predictions of a break in the strike here.

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Two Bolshevik torpedo destroyers were sunk in Korpola bay in the Gulf of Finland when they attempted to attack Estonian and British vessels on Tuesday. The admiralty announced today. ## Senate Members Fairly Dazed At Socialist's Talk

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 While members of the senate labor committee investigating the steel strike sat fairly dazed and dumbfounded Jacob Margolis of Pittsburgh, I. W. W.'s attorney, and admitted advocate of social revolution yesterday told them a story of ultra-radical activities which, he said, underlay and were associated with the nationwide strike of steel workers.

Even more remarkable to his hearers was the Pittsburgh attorney's delineation of a partially successful attempt, covering the past two years, to fuse at Pittsburgh, for an unstated but vaguely hinted revolutionary purpose, the combined forces of the industrial workers of the world, the Bolsheviks and Russian industrial workers, whose imagination, he acknowledged had been caught by the success of Lenin and Trotsky in Russia. All were working, he told the committee, "to create a new society within the shell of the old."

Throughout Margolis' story ran the name of William Z. Foster, secretary of the steel strike committee, to whom Chairman Kenyon of the labor committee forced a frequent recurrence by a cross examination in which dictagraph records of telephone conversations, photographed copies of Margolis' correspondence and similar matter played a large part.

Margolis coolly classified himself as an "anarchist syndicalist," in which capacity he had worked with and for the I. W. W. organization and a "Tolstorian anarchist." Governments, he said, will be of no use, "when proper industrial conditions are established," he put it, and these industrial conditions, he predicted will be established when workers, organized along I. W. W. lines, get ready to "take over and operate industry for themselves, more efficiently than private ownership can."

Secretary Foster came into the testimony not so much as a radical agitator himself, but as a seeker for help in conducting the industrial fight in the steel industry. Margolis told of a "union of Russian workers," existing in and around Pittsburgh, revolutionary in its objects, and said at Foster's request, or with his cognizance, he secured the endorsement of that organization for the steel strike.

"The Russians had a tri-state meeting at Youngstown in August," Margolis explained, Chairman Kenyon leading and suggesting. "It was a delegate assembly. I went there and made a speech, asking them to endorse the steel strike and give it support. This they agreed to do."

AS TO RUSSIAN NEWS

From Kansas City Star:

An impatient friend demands to know what happened to Lenin after Trotsky put him in jail. He says the Star broke off just at the point where he was getting interested, and wants to know why newspapers do that. He says we left Lenin in jail and haven't been back since to see whether any arrangements have been made for his trial. Likely as not he's shot by this time, says our friend, so what's the idea in keeping so still about it.

Well, it's this way. The Star doesn't know of our own knowledge whether Lenin is in jail or not. If he is it doesn't know which jail. There may be lots of jails in Moscow, and it would take a long time to make inquiry at all of them. All the Star knows is that one day last week London reported that Helsingfors, Finland, reported that Moscow reported that Lenin had been put in jail there. So far as this newspaper has learned, Moscow-Helsingfors-London hasn't got him out yet.

But then Russian ways are not our, and Russian news is not ours.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly... Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then... it would last... two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful.

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three... I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children... Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

There's the Rasputin legend. We've read five different accounts of what happened to Rasputin. Finally he was dropped through a hole in the ice and we said to ourselves that probably was the last of him. Yet we have recently seen a picture of his grave and the only thing about it that suggested a watery grave was a weeping willow tree.

The fate of the czar and his family has been recounted in as many ways. One of them may be true, but probably not more than one. None of them may be. There is ground for believing that the unfortunate Romanoffs did really exist at one time, which is almost more than we can be sure of with regard to some other supposed characters in the revolution, but whether they were killed in a cellar and dropped in a well, as described in a recent dramatization of news reports by a painstaking playwright, we do not certainly know.

Nor does this newspaper maintain that Lenin is in jail. Sometimes it thinks he isn't. Russian dispatches are magnificent, but not news. Frequently they are premature to the point of not being so. It is true that Lenin ought to be in jail, but we know that if everybody in Russia who ought to be in jail were really there, there wouldn't be anybody left to send dispatches.

Whenever the Star hears that Lenin has been shot it will so inform its readers. Also it will faithfully depict his denial when it is forthcoming. We play no favorites. Russian news is Russian news, and is offered and discussed subject to the conditions printed in small type on the back of the contract.

BIG BUSINESS MEET AT ATLANTIC CITY

INTERNATIONAL TRADE CONFERENCE OPENS TODAY UNDER AUSPICES U. S. CHAMBER COMMERCE.

By the Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 22.—Hundreds of the world's greatest business "surgeons"—men high in affairs in the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium—met here today at the opening of a three days' "clinic" to diagnose international trade ills and prescribe for their cure. The first day was spent largely in the organization of committees and other preliminary work.

The International Trade Conference, as it is called, is being held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Among the notables who are invited to speak are King Albert of Belgium, Herbert Hoover, A. C. Bedford, chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company, Sir Arthur Shirley Benn, M. P. of England, Eugene Schneider, head of the Creusot works, the "steel king" of France; Florimond Hankar of Brussels, director of the National Bank of Belgium, and Fernando Quarteri, formerly head of the Italian delegation to the Inter-allied Munitions Council.

Ten committees, named by an executive committee of which Mr. Bedford is chairman, are to submit surveys and reports on American trade and financial conditions for the information and guidance of the 36 foreign delegates. The topics are as follows: Credit and Finance, Chemicals, Foodstuffs, Coal, Oil, Metals, Shipping, Textiles, Reconstruction Supplies and Permanent Organization. Of all these committees none, perhaps, is more important than the one on credit and finance, headed by James S. Alexander, president of the National Bank of Commerce of New York.

Discussing the objects of the Credit and Finance Committee, Mr. Alexander said: "It is to study the question of re-establishing normal trade relations between the United States and the nations of Europe, to provide an opportunity for a frank discussion of facts and an exchange of views with our visitors from England, France, Italy and Belgium. Neither the foreign delegates nor the American committee is in any sense official."

"It is hoped that a discussion around the table of the facts and the principles involved may serve to expedite the re-establishment of sound credit conditions, based upon a renewal of understanding and confidence, and steadily increasing production. The objective in the minds of business men appears to be to place foreign trade on a normal basis, and not, except so far as the immediate emergency may demand, to crystallize and perpetuate abnormal conditions by unusual methods."

"In other words, the committee's aim is to search out, with all possible speed consistent with soundness, the ways and means by which the nations of Europe can freely carry on full trade relations with the United States along business lines, lines economically sound, commercially desirable and reciprocally beneficial. These elements form the only basis for relations which can be permanent and which will therefore be regarded as desirable either by the nations of Europe or the United States."

"It is hoped that the better understanding of the needs involved and of the resources available to meet these needs, which are to be discussed here, will prove a forward step toward the adoption, through orderly and natural agencies in the business and financial communities of the world, of remedies sufficiently far reaching to meet present difficulties and requirements."

While it is a fact that the delegates to the conference are not empowered to pledge their governments in any way, their recommendations are expected to carry great weight. The conference, it is said, has the "sympathy" of each nation represented. England, France, Italy and Belgium, as well as the United States, has in attendance an official "observer," who will report to his government and, where such a course is desirable, it is expected necessary "enabling legislation" will be passed to put the recommendations of the conference into effect. Stabilization of foreign exchange is, perhaps, the most vital topic up for consideration. One delegate put it: "We must stabilize exchange or we won't have any foreign trade at all. Europe needs vast quantities of raw materials, semi-finished as well as finished goods, and the United States as the storehouse of the world must extend credit to put Europe back upon an industrial, buying basis."

Two recommendations will be made at the conference, among others, for the stabilization of exchange, one of an "international currency," by Marshall Stevens of England, one of the founders of the Manchester Ship Canal, and the other for a guarantee by American banks of foreign railroad and industrial securities to encourage their purchase by American investors.

"It is not generally known," said one delegate, "that the woolen industry of northern France, before the war, competed for pre-eminence with the great silk industry in the south. Enormous supplies of raw wool and machinery will be needed to re-establish the ruined or destroyed French textile mills. It is one of the big problems in the re-

FIGHT STARTS ON RAILROADS TODAY

HEARING OF NATIONAL GROCERS CHARGES AGAINST DIRECTOR HINES BEGINS IN CHICAGO TODAY

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—The complaint of the National Wholesale Grocers' Association against Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads, and each of the railroad systems individually, hearings on which are to begin here today before Chairman Clyde B. Atchison of the Interstate Commerce Commission, is a case in which every important wholesale grocery concern, packing company and railroad in the United States appears either as plaintiff, defendant or intervenor.

The basis of the complaint is a charge that the packers through their control of the refrigerator cars and other equipment have been able to obtain rate discriminations and traffic favors from the railroad companies and a consequent unfair advantage in the marketing of foodstuffs.

Clifford Thorne, attorney for the grocers, in their petition thus sets out their grievances:

"The maintenance of these unjust and discriminatory provisions in the tariffs of the defendant carriers has enabled the packers to extend their powerful influence outside of the sale of the products of slaughtered animals. If these provisions be permitted to continue in effect the packers will gradually acquire a dominating control over the purchase, sale and distribution of many of the principal food products of the American nation."

The grocers do not ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to deprive the packers of their refrigerator cars but demand the abolition of all alleged discriminations in service and rates to the packers.

One of the principal complaints of discrimination has to do with the so-called "pedler cars" used by the packing companies. These are employed for the distribution of fresh meats and other packing house products but it is claimed may also be loaded with other commodities, including a large number of articles handled in the grocery trade. It is charged that by these cars the packers are enabled to make more speedier deliveries than the grocery concerns which lack such facilities and consequently can dominate the market in much trade territory.

It is alleged the packers already exercise a dominating control over the butter, egg and cheese markets and are rapidly acquiring a large share of the general wholesale grocery business. The grocers contend rate provisions applying to the pedler cars in some parts of the country enable the packers to ship groceries at considerable less freight expense than the wholesale grocery houses.

HONORING A REAL AMERICAN

Among the many drives for money now under way or in contemplation there is one that Pontotoc County citizens should by no means overlook. The nationwide campaign to provide an adequate memorial to Theodore Roosevelt should receive the support of every real American. For while Roosevelt was not the greatest man this nation has produced he was almost the greatest American.

In all those distinctive qualities that differentiate Americans from other races, Roosevelt was pre-eminent. He was a part and product of our life and institutions, and as such performed titanic service in developing the essential characteristics of America. Nothing low or mean ever approached him, and like King David's was his injunction: "Let no deceitful man dwell in my house." In all conjunctures and contingencies he stood four-square to every wind that blew.

His life was consciously or unconsciously devoted to the development of American ideals. The power he possessed was founded on public confidence, and at no place in his career was that confidence violated. Because of his rugged qualities and because the nation believed in him he was able to accomplish more for civic righteousness than any other man of his century.

Such a man deserves the everlasting gratitude of the nation he served so well. He deserves a memorial equal to that of any other character of modern times. And the people of Pontotoc County should recognize the worth of the great American who has left us by assisting in a liberal way the campaign designed to do him lasting honor.

Come to think of it, who can name the honor students of any Oklahoma school? Most anyone can give the names of those who star in football or other lines of athletics, but who can name the ones who star in English, mathematics or the sciences? Can it be that those prosaic subjects have been dropped from the curricula of our institutions and muscles have gained the ascendancy over brains? Who are the orators and debaters of our colleges and universities? Are we contributing millions to train football stars only and have the arts and sciences become a part of things that were?

We know one candidate who placed his country's interest before his political interest in every vote he cast in congress. We know another candidate who placed his political interest before his country's interest in every vote he cast in congress. We also know which of those two candidates we prefer.

There is probably an excellent reason for requiring prospective builders to pay for a building permit, but somehow we are too obtuse to see it. It strikes us that it would be a better policy to fine non-builders instead of requiring the progressive citizen to pay for the privilege of improving his property.

You may not be able to go from Jerusalem down to Jericho and succor one who has fallen among thieves, but you can prove yourself a Good Samaritan by building a rent house in Ada. A shortage of houses is hurting this city just now more than any other one thing.

The recent primary in the Fifth district seems to have shown the popularity of the league of nations. It also gave some very definite information as to the popularity of the anti league candidate, the Honorable Ed Boyle.

As one of the side-line supporters of Claude Weaver in his successful race for congress the Evening News fervently requests him not to reproduce for publication a certain essay concerning going to church.

Doubtless those farmers over in the Fifth district decided that they could better serve their country by picking forty-cent cotton than they could by voting in an election.

The proposed "white way" through Ada will be of inestimable benefit to those autoists who are in the habit of joyriding at night with lights out.

Our idea of wasted energy is for a Kansas City editor to travel all the way to Ardmore to answer the speech Senator Reed never got to deliver.

The State Press

From Sing Sing comes the report that an editor is wanted for the prison paper, the last journalistic inmate having been released. It begins to look like they will have to give the job to a lawyer or a preacher—Chickasha Express.

We have all dreaded panics in the money market and a few years ago the Federal Reserve banks sprung up for the purpose of doing away with panics, but a small curtailment of money circulation would do more good to settle the unrest condition than any other cause. People are living beyond their means and far ahead of their actual earning capacity.—McCurran Gazette.

Now it develops that this country would have experienced an actual sugar famine if it had not been for the fact that the war department released more than fifty million pounds for sale to the public during the past few months. The result is that now the army has a reserve of less than two and a half months supply instead of a supply for six months as is often the case. This supplies a very definite instance of how the war department has actually cut down the high cost of living.—Shawnee News.

In a few months a gentleman will call at your door and ask you all kinds of personal and impersonal questions. He will ask some that will incline you to tell him that it is none of his business. He may ask you how much you owe, how many children you have, how old you are, what is your religion, if you are a walking delegate of the sons of rest or just a common working man, and a host of other questions that may seem trivial and absolutely nobody's business but your own. Now, don't get mad, slam the door in his face, kick him down stairs or set the dog on him. He is a representative of the government and is taking the census. Otherwise he is probably possessed of good sense and absolutely harmless.—Marlow Review.

Here's a Fiercer "Kick"

"Choctaw been", "settin' hen" and elderberry wine with a raisin in it will have to crowd over and make room for okolehae. This article with the name that might fit a hair tonic or a Swiss yodel is the Hawaiian standby for those who regard prohibition only lightly and with disdain.

Okolehae is said to have a "kick" fiercer and more energetic than anything yet developed in the states. It leaves a man with his brain as clear as an Ozark spring, his legs as steady and dependable as those of a village deacon, but it fills him with the most unholly array of impulses that ever inspired the deviltry of bottled or jugged spirits. three fingers of it, so the tale runs, will endow the most gentle ukulele twanger with all the mischievous moods of a caveman, and four fingers of it will make a man the twin brother of Old Man Trouble himself.

The Hawaiian translation of Okolehae means "hot stuff" and those who have partaken of the concoction say this translation is only mildly descriptive. It is made from the root of the ti-plant and there is quite a flourishing industry up in the Hawaiian Mountains as a result. As there are only three revenue agents in that section, curbing the native "moonshiners" has become a rather difficult procedure. The Honolulu police, it is said, would rather have a general riot to contend with than to battle with the animated results of one jug of okolehae.

Our Own Masters

We have been told that America is to save the world and rescue civilization from dissolution, but we must do it in our way; in the way that has made us, in a little more than a century, the most unified, the most virile, and the most potent single power in the world. And when we ask ourselves what it is that has given us this unity, this virility and this potency, the answer is, that we have founded this nation upon principles of law, and upon the guarantees of individual rights under the law. That is our great contribution to civilization; and if we are to be of use to other nations, old or new, our first thought must be to remain our own masters, to preserve our independence, to control our own forces as a nation by our own laws, and to protect our heritage of organized liberty from any form of detraction or perversion.

The Cost of Shorter Hours

It is the argument of the Bolshevik and near-Bolshevik that shorter hours will make room for more workers, and that the demand for more workers will raise the wage scale. Then, of course if the wage scale is raised workers will be able to live comfortably and with added leisure on what they earn in shorter hours.

Fine! But the price of commodities doesn't properly enter into this half-baked thought. Shortening the hours of labor always increases the cost of the product. At the advanced price the demand declines, for there are fewer who can afford to buy it, and so, eventually, the jobs become fewer.

If the short-hour men followed their idea to its logical conclusion they would approve the proposition that since "the shorter the hours the greater the wealth," we should all soon be rich enough to quit work entirely. What we really need is to get back to old-fashioned principles and be satisfied to do a decent day's work with decent pay for it.

Value of Nuts as Food

Nuts can and do take the place of meat in the diet with beneficial results, and they are bound to be in great demand at good prices in the future says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington which is campaigning for the planting of nut and fruit trees along the Roads of Remembrance being built in honor of war heroes. The comparative food value to the pound in calories is shown by the following table:

Round Steak	950
Wheat Flour	1,650
White Bread	1,215
Dried Beans	1,605
Raisins	1,605
English Walnuts	3,075
Pecans	3,445

It should be noted here that the true value of any article of food should not be measured by its cost, but by what it is worth to the consumer.

The two cases against A. V. Rupprecht were called in county court this morning but were continued for the term. Rupprecht is a passenger conductor on the Frisco and is charged with assault and disturbing the peace. It is alleged that he mistreated two small boys who were selling hamburgers at the Frisco station two months ago. He was found guilty in the city courts at the time but took an appeal to the county court.

MIRACLE MAN WITH CINCINNATI REDS

By the Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 1.—Just as a good golf player must keep his eye on the ball, so must a champion baseball player keep his mind on the game. The ability of the Cincinnati players to think baseball, dream baseball, talk baseball and live baseball has made them a pennant winning aggregation, according to Manager Pat Moran.

"If the fellows had thought about automobiles, shows and everything else in the world but baseball they would not be where they are now," said Moran in explaining how his team captured the National league flag, and became contenders for the World's championship. "I guess that holds good in most any game you are playing. A player must be interested and he must think about his game. When he does this he is always up and coming, taking advantage of every opportunity."

Pat has been characterized as a miracle man, wonderful leader and so on through the catalog of descriptive phrases but he modestly insists the players are responsible for the success of the Cincinnati club.

"I have a great ball club that's the whole story," he said. "Not only is it a great ball club, but it is a club of fellows who take care of themselves and put their minds on their work. No man can make good in any line of life unless he has the instruments to succeed with. I have a good bunch of players so give them the credit. All I did was to hold the boys together. They won the ball games."

Followers of the Reds, however, will not let Moran take a back seat without showering some praise on him. They say that Cincinnati had good players but that it took a good manager to mould them into a winning machine. Any Cincinnati fan will swear that Pat is a good manager.

Eddy Roush, who Cincinnati fans expect will be an important factor in the present world series games with his heavy hitting, would not be playing baseball today but for an inherent love of the game which enabled him to overcome a severe handicap some years ago.

When Roush began playing professional baseball he was an infielder and a right-handed thrower. Now he is an outfielder, considered to be one of the best in either league and throws with his left hand.

The change was brought about through an accident in which Roush's right arm was broken. It didn't heal properly and when the cast was taken off, Roush found that his arm was so weak that it would be impossible for him ever to whip the ball across the diamond with his old speed.

First he decided to quit baseball—but found that was easier said than done. With the warm weather came the longing to get hold of a bat and glove—but the right arm had no strength.

Determined not to be kept out of the game, Roush decided to learn to throw with his left hand. It took him a year—but he stuck to it. Now he is considered one of the greatest throwing outfielders in the game as many National league base runners will testify.

STEEL INDUSTRY MUST BE HUMANIZED

By the Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 1.—The steel industry must be "humanized" to save it from industrial revolution; capital will simply invite destruction if it attempts to maintain the old order, said Phillip Stremmel, superintendent of the hot mills, National Enameling and Stamping Company, Granite City, Ill., in an address before the eighth annual congress of the National Safety Council.

"The part labor has played in the great world struggle has rejuvenated her," Mr. Stremmel said. "The working men are not only awake, but they are conscious of exerting a tremendous power. They are also determined that the fruits of the awakening shall not be lost. The whole history of the steel industry has been one of struggle," he said. "The employees have believed that their rights could only be maintained by organization while the employer fought organization, because he was convinced that it was an invasion of his rights."

"The truth is, both were partly right and both were partly wrong," he added.

Four steps are necessary, according to Mr. Stremmel, to reach a solution of the problems confronting the steel industry.

"First, if the steel industry is to be humanized," he said, "confidence must be restored between employer and employee. The employer must have vision enough to see that he must not think only in terms of profit and production but in terms of his responsibility to the community."

"When capital, keeping pace with the sociological thought as well as with modern methods and machinery, sets itself to see man as a man as well as a worker, the old dissatisfaction and distrust will disappear. Without mutual respect between employer and employee, there can be only struggle to the bitter end, which will ruin both."

"Second, The employer and employee have certain definite interests in common, and the one lesson that all concerned must learn is cooperation. Capital and labor must see that no lasting victory can come on either side, if it comes out of jealousy, envy, hatred, distrust."

"Third, The steel industry must be humanized to save itself from industrial revolution. Labor is organized in a fighting mood—and means to maintain the new standards of living. Capital will simply invite destruction if it attempts to maintain the old order. We must see the world as it is now and deal with the new conditions in a spirit of justice and of utter unselfishness."

As the fourth point, he pointed out that the final reason for humanizing the steel industry was to enable American capital to do its part in the world reconstruction, for if American capital fails to point the way through economic reform, "the dream of Democracy must slowly but surely drift out of the minds of men and Classocracy shall dominate the governments of the world."

MEXICANS FEAR OUR ARMY AIRPLANES

By the Associated Press

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 1.—American army airplanes patrolling the Texas-Mexican border have done more than any other one thing to check raids into the United States by Mexican bandits from across the Rio Grande, according to Captain Jerry Grey of the Texas Rangers, who has been stationed in the Big Bend district.

The Big Bend district is considered "the worst section of the border," Captain Grey said, but the Mexican outlaws "have learned to dread the speed and observing power of men in planes." The alarms get to the army posts and the cavalry and rangers turn out too quick now to make raiding across the border as safe and lucrative as in former days.

SAN ANTONIO BEAUTY IS CHOSEN TO BE MARY PICKFORD'S SUCCESSOR

Miss Blanche McGarity.

When the news spread that Mary Pickford might retire from the screen, people began to wonder who would be the successor of the famous star of the blond curls. Out California way a contest was held to decide who was to be the star's successor. Then the Motion Picture Classic, a photoplay magazine, held a fame and fortune contest to decide who would be the one to follow in Mary's footsteps. Miss Blanche McGarity of San Antonio, Texas, won this contest among more than two hundred other contestants.

The accompanying photograph shows that Miss McGarity strongly resembles Mary, but it is a long time since we have seen Mary in such an angelic role, the sweet Mary Pickford of several years ago having turned into a veritable hoyden in her recent pictures.

HOW NEW MEXICO II TOWN GETS TREES

WHAT ALBUQUERQUE DID UNDER HARD CONDITIONS CAN BE DUPLICATED BY ANY MUNICIPALITY

Here's the way to plant trees in your town. Aldo Leopold, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Albuquerque, New Mexico, tells how that city conducted a tree planting campaign which offers valuable suggestions to other commercial organizations. The first step was to appoint a committee of private citizens experienced in tree planting. Says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington which will send free memorial tree planting instruction to any one. This committee drew up a set of specifications embodying the consensus of their opinions as to the best species of trees to plant and when, the best size of stock and the exact method of shipment, storage, distribution, planting, and the after care which is necessary to produce the best results under the conditions existing in Albuquerque.

The specifications were then published in the local newspapers, and private parties were asked to submit bids, giving the cost per tree for which they would agree to meet the specifications. On a given date all bids were reviewed by the committee, and those bidders whose prices were reasonable were investigated as to their personal reliability and experience and the reliability of the nursery with which they did business. Certificates of recommendation were then issued to all the bidders who, in the opinion of the committee, were fully qualified to do the work.

The committee then appointed a trained forester as inspector. The certificates of recommendation stipulated that any work not complying with the specifications as interpreted by the inspector would result in the forfeiture of the certificate of recommendation. All holders of certificates were then encouraged to proceed to solicit business in the regular manner of private contractors.

COUNTY COURT TRIES CRIMINAL CASES

County Court spent yesterday in the trial of three cases, all of which went to the jury, resulting in two acquittals and one conviction. Eugene Shaver, charged with violating the prohibition laws of the state, had a jury trial and was found not guilty. He was represented by L. M. King.

The case of the State vs. Bob Mangum, resulted in a verdict of guilty. The jury fixed his punishment at $50.00 and thirty days, but recommended a suspension of the jail sentence. Mangum was defended by Jno. P. Crawford.

The last case of the day was that of the State vs. Chub Scott. He was charged with indecent exposure and the offense was alleged to have been committed near Canyon Springs last June. While a lot of boys were enjoying a Sunday afternoon at the "ole swimmin' hole." The defendant was found not guilty. He was represented by Date Crawford of Stonewall.

Economy Corner

In toilet preparations our grandmothers made many things for themselves of the harmless and homely ingredients they had at hand. Some of these old recipes have been preserved and have proven their worth in performing the work they are intended for. Beesides being less expensive than the lotions and creams bought in the shops one has the satisfaction of knowing just what is in them. For the complexion and for the hair these home-made preparations probably have tonic and healing qualities as effective as the manufactured articles. At least they will answer the purpose for women who feel that money spent for toilet preparations is an extravagance for them. Here is the old fashioned and reliable formula for treatment of a dry skin.

When the skin is dry and harsh it should be washed only once a day in warm water, using a pure, bland soap, and rinsed in cold water. This is done in the morning. During the day use a disappearing cream, rubbing it in and then wiping it off with a piece of old linen. At night rub in the cream but do not rub it off but allow it to remain all night.

The disappearing cream is made as follows: White wax, 1 ounce; spermaceti, 1 ounce; almond oil, 4 ounces; rose water, 4 ounces. Use as described above. Can be put up by any druggist or at home, remembering that the more a cream is beaten the smoother it will be.

An Astringent Cream.
A well-recommended astringent cream is made from four ounces of mutton tallow, one and a quarter ounces of glycerin, one-half a dram of tincture of benzoin, a quarter of a dram of spirits of camphor, one-eighth of a dram of powdered alum, one-quarter of a dram of Russian isinglass and one-half an ounce of rose water. The rose water is warmed in a china cup set in hot water and the isinglass is dissolved in it. The mutton tallow, which has previously been tried out at gentle heat and added to the glycerin, is then blended with the rose water, and the other ingredients are added while the mixture is being beaten. This makes a cream which is astringent, tightening the skin, without allowing it to become flabby.

To Soften the Hands.
Before retiring take a large pair of gloves and spread mutton tallow inside, also all over the hands. Wear the gloves all night and wash the hands with olive oil and white Castile soap in the morning; after cleansing the hands with soap rub them well with oatmeal while still wet.

Wool Embroidery.

Wool embroidery continues to appear with insistent frequency on summer gowns, for both morning and afternoon wear.

Linen, silk and organdie are embroidered in "riotous" colors, as a hat trimming; wool flowers, fruits and geometrical figures continue in high favor.

Two shades of yellow pumpkin and lemon are lovely against background of blue, while a thread of black and another of white give perfect tone values to the various shades which are used in embroideries.

Seen in Fifth Avenue.

An unusual dress recently seen on Fifth avenue was of white satin with overdrapery of navy georgette falling from shoulders to hem. The georgette was bordered by wide band of white beadwork, and a collar reaching almost to the waistline was similarly beaded.

A Proclamation

Whereas, the commercial freedom of the cotton producing interests and the cotton producing sections of the United States is absolutely necessary to its future growth, progress and prosperity to be obtained only through correcting methods of production and marketing of cotton, it is imperative that producers and their allied interests make common cause for the regeneration of the industry and to guard against the encroachment of those who, actuated by ulterior motives, manipulate the cotton market for their own selfish purposes, and

Whereas, the farmer, the banker and the merchant realizing the necessity of concerted action for mutual protection and interest have agreed to co-operate toward protecting the industrial future of the cotton producing states and realizing that the cotton crop, the most important single crop in the world must be properly handled, financed and marketed if cotton production is to achieve any distinction as a commercial factor and the cotton grower saved from becoming the prey of those who control the market for selfish interests alone, making it impossible for him to maintain his standing in the business community and to properly discharge his obligations to the locality, state and nation and

Whereas, The American Cotton Association, an altruistic membership organization formed for the purpose of accomplishing complete emancipation of all cotton growing interests and commercial freedom of the cotton belt states through proper handling of the cotton crop and which has up to this time saved to the cotton producer of the south one half billion dollars through its activities; establishing the fact that selfish influences have controlled the market and dictated the starvation prices that have always obtained, and

Whereas, the American Cotton Association plans to enlist the active sympathy, substantial support and intelligent co-operation of every man, directly or indirectly interested in the raising or marketing of cotton; to bring into active application the principles of profit sharing with the manufacturer; to protect the interests of the cotton producer and improve his condition; to promote economic regulation of cotton production; to promote intelligent diversification of crops and to develop a market therefor; to improve and enlarge present existing warehouse facilities; to broaden the markets for raw cotton and enlarge the uses for cotton and cotton goods; to improve and increase transportation and distribution facilities; to collect and disseminate information on all phases of domestic and foreign consumption, state of trade extent of acreage, supply and condition of crops and in fact all information of practical value to the cotton growing section of the United States, and

Whereas, The American Cotton Association is planning an intensive membership in November throughout the entire cotton belt in order that these plans may be carried to fruition and its field of service greatly enlarged.

Therefore, I, J. B. A. Robertson, Governor of the State of Oklahoma, do hereby call upon all citizens having any interest in or relation with cotton to loyally support this movement through the organization of uniform and complete state, county, township and school district units in order that they may, through co-operative effort, entrench themselves against the aggression of opposing interests and strengthen their position and influence; that delegates be appointed from the several cotton producing counties together with representatives of financial, commercial and agricultural organizations throughout the state to assemble in convention in Oklahoma City, on Tuesday, October 28th at 10 A. M. in the hall of the House of Representatives there to plan wisely and effectively for the membership campaign through which the broad purposes and plans of the American Cotton Association for the permanent improvement of conditions in cotton producing states may be realized.

Witness my hand at the State Capitol, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, this 16th day of October, 1919.

Stock Market

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 20.—Liberal receipts of cattle for the week's opening run placed plain to common grades in a weak position. Best grades were fully steady and sold readily. Liberal receipts of hogs caused another general decline in prices with the market turning back to the low point of last week. Sheep were in moderate supply and sold 25 to 50 cents higher.

Today's Receipts.

Today's arrivals were 40,000 cattle, 4,000 calves, 15,000 hogs and 14,000 sheep, compared with 39,000 cattle, 4,000 calves, 12,000 hogs and 19,000 sheep a week ago and 30,000 cattle, 5,000 calves, 12,000 hogs and 18,200 sheep a year ago. Receipts of cattle from Colorado were liberal and about the same as on preceding Mondays from other states.

Beef Cattle.

Demand for good fat steers, butcher cattle, and stockers and feeders which characterized the demand last week, continued today, and prices were fully steady. The common to fair kinds sold slowly and at lower prices. Demand was large and the market is displaying the biggest outlet of the season. Good to choice fed steers sold at $16.50 to $18.35. Some short fed steers considerable weight on grass brought $14.50 to $16.00, and wintered grassers sold at $13.50 to $15.00, while straight grassers sold at $8.25 to $13.50. Colorado range steers brought $9.00 to $12.50 from killers. Cows and heifers in some cases were higher, though average level was unchanged. Cows sold at $5.00 to $6.00 for "canners," $5.00 to $7 for cutters and $7.25 to $11.25 for butchers. Veal calves were strong to 25 cents higher.

Stocks and Feeders.

Large demand continues for stock and feeding grades. Buyers demand considerable quality, but plain and ordinary kinds are finding a larger outlet than two weeks ago. Feeders, choice heavy fleshy kinds are selling at $12.00 to $13.50; others $8.75 to $11.75; stockers $7.25 to $11.00; few below $8.25.

Hogs.

Hog prices took another dip downward today and returned to the low level of last week, the lowest point this season. The general decline amounted to 25 cents, with the top price $14.20 and bulk of sales $13.25 to $14.00. Other markets showed a similar decline. The movement is increasing and some of the hogs coming now have been fattened on new corn. The price spread between extreme heavies and light weight grades is diminishing. Pigs and thin hogs suitable for stock and feeding purposes are in active demand at $12.50 to $14.25.

Sheep and lamb prices were 25 to 50 cents higher and active. Receipts were below expectations and demand from both killers and feeders large. Western lambs sold at $15.00 to $15.50, mostly $15.25 up, and native lambs $14.50 to $15.00. Feeding lambs brought $12 to $12.25 and fat ewes $7.00 to $7.75.

Easier Now Than Later.

It is easier to break up a cold or check a cough now than it will be later. Persistent bronchial coughs that "hang on" all winter pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. L. W. Day, 66 Campbell Ave., E., Detroit, Mich., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieves one of bronchitis very quickly. I hope never to have it again." This reliable family medicine for the relief of coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, etc., contains no opiates. Children like it. Sold everywhere, adv.

If every county in Oklahoma were blessed with a prosecutor of the calibre of Robert Burns of Oklahoma county, Bolshevism would not nor could not show its face in our great state. Burns is making Oklahoma county a great county attorney and has assembled about him in his work, two great trial lawyers in our own Ned Looney and O. A. Cargile. With that trinity of lawyers on a criminal's trail, he might as well proclaim in the words of the Messiah, "My God, why hast thou forsaken me?"—Johnston County Capital-Democrat.

Where Honors Are Even

Tailored suits continue to come from the hands of manufacturers in two distinctly different types, with the buying public showing a preference for the fanciful designs.

In the matter of decorations, fur is widely but not lavishly used, and carefully done silk embroidery is very often used with it. Being of the same character they look well together. At the right of the two suits pictured here there is a fine example of the combination of fur and embroidery in a suit of wool velours. The skirt in this model has two narrow plaits at the side and is very long. The coat is a very handsome affair, uneven in length about the bottom and having wide panels, shorter than the front and back, set in. They are banded with two narrow bands of dark fur. Embroidery, in the same color as the cloth, finds an advantageous position at each side of the coat skirt. The body buttons a little to the left of the front with large, flat cloth-covered buttons, and there is high collar of the cloth, banded with fur, that fastens at the left side. Fur in two large ornaments finishes the narrow girdle with long ends at the front. With this dressy suit a sailor hat of silk beaver looks particularly well.

The suit at the left is a quite different affair, much plainer and made of a sturdier material. Bone buttons and narrow braid are the very practical embellishments allowed to it and its lines are simple and mannish. But it has the high, cozy looking collar of fur that is found in the company of all sorts of suits and the narrow belt of the material. But this is extended only across the front of the coat, buttoning at the sides. Just by way of not going to extremes in being plain and practical, the belt is double, with no particular reason for being so except that it adds an attractive and unexpected interest to this small item in the suit's make-up. The hat is a tailored model, but not so plain as a banded sailor. Neither suit is afraid of comparison, honors are about even between them.

REV. DUNN WRITES FROM CINCINNATI

The News is in receipt today of the following letter from Rev. C. V. Dunn, pastor of the First Christian Church of this city, who has been in Cincinnati for the past several days attending the International Conference of Christian Churches:

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 20, 1919. The convention proper closed last night. An extra session will be held this morning. We have been having a glorious time. The convention has indeed been international in its scope. About four thousand persons have been in attendance, and they have come from all parts of the world. The fellowship has been fine. We have met many of our former friends—college friends and other friends. The convention itself has been a very important one. Some important questions have been decided and broad plans laid for future work. Oklahoma has been pretty well represented. The communion service yesterday (Sunday) afternoon was one of the finest and most impressive parts of the convention.

We expect to leave for my mother's home tomorrow morning or Wednesday morning. We want to see some important places in Cincinnati before leaving. Mrs. Dunn's hand is healing nicely. Winifred is quite well.—C. V. Dunn.

Wants Red Cross Button For Xmas Present She Says

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 22.—A motherly old woman walked timidly into the headquarters of the Oklahoma County Red Cross, the cruel story of war and disease were written into the lines of her face. But she had a cheery smile despite the suffering she had undergone.

"I heard you were going to have another Red Cross Roll Call," the little old woman told Mrs. Ruell Haskell, Jr., secretary of the Home Service, "and so I came up to see if it was not time for me to join. The Red Cross has been so good to me and to my children there's nothing I would not do for it."

This little woman had a story of fortitude that probably had been paralleled in few cases. When the war broke out this woman was suffering from tuberculosis. She had one son and daughter who were blind. The mother sent her only boy to the army and although ill herself, the little old woman went to work in order that her daughter who was in the state school for the blind might be cared for.

While the son was in France and the daughter in school, the little mother worked day after day trying to make ends meet, but try as she might, she could not earn enough to keep herself and daughter in school. Here she found a staunch and ready friend in the Red Cross. The Red Cross bought a commencement dress for the daughter when she was ready to be graduated from school and paid the girl's railroad fare home. So the mother and daughter lacked for nothing.

"My boy is back from war now," the brave little mother told Mrs. Haskell. "He is working every day and we do not need the help of the Red Cross now, but some other family may."

"I heard the other day that the Red Cross was going to call the roll again and I told my boy that the only Christmas present I wanted was a Red Cross button."

SECOND $1,000,000 CHAPLIN PICTURES WAR TROUBLES

"Shoulder Arms," the second Charlie Chaplin million-dollar picture, to be shown at the American Theater on Thursday, pictures his experiences and difficulties as an average American doughboy, from the time he enters the "rookie" squad until, as a finished product of military training, he invades Hunland and captures the Imperial German Staff with a method typically Yankee for novelty and surprise.

His feet get him into countless troubles under the unsympathetic eye of his drill sergeant, and even after his advent into the front line trenches he finds new complexities in the management of a rifle and bayonet. Following numerous experiences in his dugout he volunteers for a special spying mission. Camouflaged as a tree, he invades enemy territory. A Hun wood-chopping party attempts to add him, disguised as a tree stump, to its collection, with disastrous results. Charlie is finally captured in a shell-torn French house. He makes his escape by turning the tables on the Germans, and, accompanied by the French girl who befriends him, he seeks refuge in what proves to be the headquarters of the General Staff. The Kaiser, Crown Prince and von Hindenburg surprise him in an attack on a German officer, but Charlie saves the day for himself and the girl by wearing the uniform of his unconscious victim.

He rescues his drill sergeant, also captured by Huns, and together they conspire to escape. Their plan brings complete confusion to headquarters, and shakes the German army to its foundation.

FROM WAR SERVICE TO "SECRET SERVICE"

Major Robert Warwick Has Leading Role in Great Picture.

After a period of active service on the staff of General Pershing, overseas, Major Robert Warwick, with the record of having been one of the first important screen stars to enter the service, has returned to civil life and entered into contract with Jesse L. Lasky to appear in the leading role of "Secret Service," a Paramount Arctcraft special.

Major Warwick was given an ovation on his return to New York from France and he is today the most interesting figure in American theatricals and motion pictures.

"Secret Service," directed by Hugh Ford and with a remarkably strong supporting cast, will be seen at the Liberty Theater Friday. It is a play dealing with the efforts of a secret service agent of the Union to bring about the capture of Richmond at the time when the city was beleaguered by the Federal forces. Undoubtedly it is one of the most intensely interesting dramas that has ever been written, or produced.

Beulah Marie Dix did the scenario which follows the play, with little deviation from the original. The cast is a powerful one, and Wanda Hawley has the leading feminine role.

Methodist Choir.
All members of the Methodist choir are urged to be present at rehearsal Thursday evening at seven sharp. Miss Willetta Kittell will have charge of the organ and rehearsal. Come and bring your musical friend along with you.—Wallace M. Crutchfield, Pastor.
